

Our Mission

The West Virginia Quilt Documentation Project carries out the mission of West Virginia Quilters, Inc. to . . . "continue the recording of the tradition, culture, and history of quilt making in West Virginia that began with the West Virginia Heritage Quilt Search, Inc. and will encourage the care and preservation of quilts, both old and new."

West Virginia Quilt Documentation Project goals:

Document quilts made in, or residing in, West Virginia made before 1970.

Store collected information in the West Virginia Division of Culture and History Culture Center Archives.

Upload collected information to The Quilt Index, an online resource for quilt scholars and historians.

Help owners develop an appreciation of their quilts.

West Virginia Quilters, Inc. is a non-profit statewide organization of quilters. Documentation days will be held in conjunction with WVQI meetings, at an annual WVQI quilt festival, and by other sponsors at other locations around the state.

Join Us

Documentation days are conducted solely by volunteers – and it's not necessary to be a quilter to help.

To volunteer, please contact:
